

Hullo there! Last summer, or to put it another way, many decades ago, I had a jolly adventure in Manhattan where I faced down my eternal foes the Cult of Skaro! Didn't they get to number twelve with "Baby I want your love thang"? Anyway, to commemorate the fortnight I spent picking bits of gunk up in sewers and talking to the poor, the British Broadcasting Chaps have released this replica set of the key characters from that nail-biting and very convincing drama. That's right, don't be fooled by my clothes, that seem to hint at the City of London Hedge Fund manager who didn't get out quickly enough before the Credit Crunch and had to sell his adult's shoes to pay for bread, I really am that mysterious traveller in time and space known only as The Doctor!

But surely there's a character missing? That's right! You, Sarah McNerdcakes can be none other than Tallulah! With your spot-on New York accent and your Busby Berkeley dance moves - hugely entertaining, providing your audience is suspended vertically above your head - you can join in the action! And because you're many times taller than the rest of us, you can improvise your own ending where Tallulah gets annoyed at the Doctor and decides to stomp on him until he is a squishy pile of Gallifreyan gore! A logical story development worthy of the great Russell T Davies himself!

The gang's all here! There's your boyfriend, Lazlo, with the body of a man but the face of a pig! You still love him despite his appearance, though it will lead to a future situation in which your family claim that it was this relationship that finally turned you towards lesbianism. And who's this?

Y "halo 3" thar, Sarah! It is I, Dalek Sec! Not to be confused with any of Doctor Who's other smartly dressed blobby creatures, such as Scaroth (last of the Jagaroth, you'll recall), or those Sylvester McCoy ones who could only say "Ratkin! Ratkin!" because there wasn't an obvious cliffhanger that week. True, my dialogue may not be quite up to that standard, but never mind.

If you look closely, you may see what appear to be slightly disturbing stains on my jacket! Fear not - they are merely the result of the dangly appendages on my face getting a little over-excited.

Frequently Asked Questions:

Q: Why is there no scale model of medical student Martha Jones?

A: This is because she is both black and a woman.

Q: I'm confused. Where's Kermit?

A: He looked a bit too much like a real frog to fit it with the general level of realism of the setting.

Q: What was all that stuff about a solar flare at night creating a bolt of lightning that zaps Time Lord DNA into some humans?

A: EMERGENCY TEMPORAL SHIFT!
